

Please do not allow cellphone use aboard public-transport air carriers. Flying is stressful enough without having to put up with people yakking away for hours shouting into cellphones. If you allow it, onboard tension will escalate, leading to confrontations hazardous to the flying public at large.